

Sowing the Seeds for Literacy: Back to Basics

Saturday, March 2, 2019

Lambton College Event Centre
Doors open at 8:30

1457 London Rd., Sarnia, ON
Conference 9:00—12:30

Sowing the Seeds for Literacy is a half-day continuing education event for early years educators, including ECE and Kindergarten teachers, librarians, and others working with children birth to 6 years of age. In our 13th year, we are pleased to welcome Heather Molyneaux, speech-language pathologist and Janine Ross, elementary teacher both with the St. Clair Catholic District School Board. They will be discussing the foundational skills of emergent literacy, including phonological awareness and shared reading strategies. Participants will gain practical suggestions that can be implemented with children of all ages. Speakers' bios available on registration page of Eventbrite.

Registration opens online Monday, January 14, 2019

Registration available online at www.soundstart.org

A $20 non-refundable registration fee will be accepted online through PayPal via major credit card (no PayPal account necessary). Your registration will be confirmed once payment has cleared. PayPal will issue a receipt.

Any questions? Contact Kim Jackson Kim.Jackson@lambtoncollege.ca

Snacks and beverages provided. Each participant will receive a complimentary book. Book and toy shopping available—bring cash or credit to avoid disappointment.

